BOOTLEGGERS IN MAD RUSH TO ENTER 'GUILTY' PLEAS

COMMERCIAL CLUB HONORS FOUNDERS OF INSTITUTION

One Hundred Members of Thriving Organization Hear Something of Origin of the Idea.

A HAPPY EVENING

The Commercial Club is no longer an infant. The club officials admitted that fact last night when they staged a "Founders' Night" in honor of what they termed the twelve "master minds" who conceived the idea of a Commercial Club and laid down the precepts and foundation on which the club has been so solidly erected.

President Frantz called the meeting to order last evening to begin his second term as president and thanked the boys for the compliment bestowed upon him. Vice President Philip Reed, Secretary R. B. Brubaker and Treasurer Harry B. Evans were all on the job to fill the stations.

Many of the new members taken in recently, and by the way, the club is full up now, there being one hundred members in good standing on the roll, made happy little speeches and the club guest was Lieut. Whitford Barrett of the Sheridan Troop of cavalry of Tyrone, who is a native Clearfielder. Lieut. Barrett explained the opportunity to get a cavalry troop for Clearfield and the club went on record as approving the move and pledged its support to "Troop A." After the meeting a number of the club members signed up to join the troop.

With the business of the evening out of the way Dr. Frantz spoke of the origin of the club and called on G. A. Stewart who served as chairman at the first meeting ever held for a recital of the details of that gathering of twelve men which has ripened into a solid business organization of one hundred men.

Mr. Stewart stated that the origin of the Commercial Club, like the nationality of Columbus, the authorship of Shakespeare and other great outstanding historical problems, was more or less disputed as to time, place and principals. No minutes of the Commercial Club were kept until the permanent organization was formed and the first regular meeting held on January 31, 1921 although meetings were held regularly every two weeks for about three months prior to that date. There was a purpose in keeping no minutes and giving no pupplicity to the early meetings of the club. It was to test the purpose of the young members, to see whether they were truly interested in the formation of a club of business men for the more serious aspects of community and business life. That they were so interested is attested by the fact that attendance grew with each meeting and has continued to grow.

LEGION DECIDES IT CANNOT ACCEPT THE BONUS IF IT IS LINKED TO A BEER MEASURE

Washington, Dec. 18.—The American Legion has definitely decided to frown upon plans for linking a beer and light wines act to the new Soldier's Bonus Bill, Legion officials announce.

Legion officials reached this decision at a conference here which included the new National Commander, Alvin Owsley, former commander and several state leaders. The soldier-legislators were unqualifiedly opposed to all rum revenue provisions, it was said, through fear that raising the prohibition issue would jeopardize passage of the Bonus Bill. Officials are also opposed to inclusion in the new bill of any provisions for payment of the bonus, it was said. This ban would extend not only to sales taxes and luxury taxes but even to the proposed bond issue suggested by Chairman Fordney, Republican, of Michigan, of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Representatives of the soldier's organizations are determined to force action on the new measure before the present session. This drive was heartily endorsed by soldier members of the House who announced their willingness to conduct a bonus fight on the floor to the exclusion of all other legislation until the bill was enacted.

Legion spokesmen plan to visit President Harding in the near future to place their views before him. They will contend the President can now sign the type of bill he vetoed last summer because the nation's financial condition has improved.

The President will also be told there is now no need to include a revenue-raising provision for the bonus as Treasury reports indicate the first payments could be made without taxing the Government's financial resources. Future payments, he will be informed, can be made thru the regular sources of revenue.

Chairman Fordney, who declared he was ready to introduce the new Bonus Bill, also planned to call upon the President this week to discuss the bonus situation.

The Fordney plan tentatively includes a provision for paying the bonus through a bond issue. This bond issue would either be made to cover the entire cost of the bonus or to pay off each soldier with a government bond which could easily be cashed. Legion officials apparently are opposed to both suggestions.

Former service men in the House are backing the Legion in its fight. Their position was outlined today by Representative Royal Johnson, Republican, of North Dakota, who served overseas during the war.

"The former service men in the House are determined the bonus will be enacted by the present Congress," said Johnson. "It will be passed before next March 4. This time I hope the President will sign it."

COLD WAVE, FIRE AND CRIME MAKE CHICAGO PROBLEM

Chicago, Dec. 19.—Deaths, fire, robbery and murder came with the cold wave which continued to hold Chicago in its grip today. Zero weather which still continues has caused five deaths, thousands of dollars damage from fire and hundreds of highway robberies.

With freezing weather coming just before the holidays acute suffering was reported among the poor in all sections of the city and the relief workers have been working overtime.

Four men were found frozen to death last night, another man was killed when he slipped on the icy pavements and fell underneath a skidding auto.

The fire department has had hardly a moment rest in the last few days. More than 400 fires have been reported since the cold wave hit Chicago.

WILL TRY AGAIN TO FIND WEALTH IN THE MOUNTAIN

Cleveland Financiers Undismayed at Failure of Last Two Wells and Will Drill Some More.

MAY DRILL FOURTH

Notwithstanding the fact that both the test wells already drilled on the Whitmer-Steele lands north of town have proven to be "dusters" and that the State Geologist is on record as basing his official reputation upon the expressed belief that neither oil or gas in paying quantities exist in Clearfield county east of an imaginary line which crosses the county in the region of DuBois, a further effort will be made to find oil or gas in the region mentioned.

The superintendent of the Cleveland Gas Company, which financed the recent test well drilled on the Pitch Pine tract to a depth of 3,150 feet, was in Clearfield yesterday and left for the mountains in charge of driller Heisel for the purpose of locating another test well.

It is expected that this well will be located at Mineral Spring, about one mile and a half east of the well just completed, which was half a mile east of the first well put down in that locality.

If the well at Mineral Spring fails to produce, we understand a fourth attempt will be made in the same section.

EXPLOSION WRECKS TWO HOUSES IN THE CITY OF BALTIMORE

Baltimore, Dec. 19.—The adjoining homes of Patrolman John Eberling and the Misses Caroline and Pauline Rauter were racked by an explosion at 3:00 a. m. today. The explosion tore a big hole in the wall between the houses and broke windows in buildings 75 feet away.

Police and detectives who rushed to the scene a few minutes after the explosion stated that the Policeman's home had been dynamited by a man who was suspected of owning a still which was being run on a lot in the rear of his home.

SPECIAL SENATOR ELECTION ORDERED IN GREEN CONTEST

Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 19.—A call was issued today by Lieutenant Governor Biedleman for a special election January 18th in the Washington and Green County Senatorial District. James G. Barnett, Republican and Prohibiton Candidate and A. G. Sprouls, a Democrat had a tie vote and both will be candidates at the coming election.

CHICAGO ROADS ARE WATCHED FOR MEN WHO STOLE $200,000

Chicago, Dec. 19.—All roads into Chicago were guarded today following the receipt by police of a tip that the bandits who robbed the Federal Reserve Bank car of $200,000 were headed this way. Federal authorities state the tip was received from a woman who refuseed to divulge her name. The woman said members of the gang were from Chicago. Plans were also made to search all western trains coming into Chicago.

Mrs. W. S. Rice, who has been on the sick list the past three weeks, is able to be about the house again.

SEEK, BY MANDAMUS, THE USE OF FUNDS RAISED BY TAXES TO PAY INTEREST ON ROAD BONDS WHICH WERE NEVER ISSUED

County Commissioners Seek To Compel The County Treasurer To Put The Money Into General Fund.

FOR MAHAFFEY BRIDGE

District Attorney John C. Arnold, by direction of the County Commissioners, in a petition filed in Prothonotary Ralston's office this morning, asks the Court to issue a mandamus compelling County Treasurer Gertrude Rumberger to pay into the general fund of the county the amount of money raised by a one and one-half mill road bond tax levied in 1921 and since kept in a separate fund for road purposes.

The petition recites that in the spring of 1921 the County Commissioners contemplated the issuing of $350,000 road bonds and to provide payment of principal, interest and tax levied a tax of one and one-half mills.

Despite the fact that the millage was assessed no debt was incurred until September, 1921, when road bonds to the amount of $225,000 were issued and a one mill tax levied in 1922 to provide for same. The same was true of a bond issue of $460,000 in the spring of 1922, while in September, 1922, an additional road debt of $325,000 was incurred and like the previous issues a tax levy to cover same arranged for with the issue of bonds.

The one and one-half mills levied in 1921 were not re-assessed in 1922, but about all of it has been collected. For the purpose of this action it is charged this tax was erroneously not paid into general fund of county but placed by the Treasurer in a special fund created for payment of interest and taxes of and the redemption of Road Bonds of Clearfield county. Said tax is not needed in said fund for the reason that the road bonds of the county as issued are provided for specifically by the resolutions authorizing each particular issue as hereinbefore stated, by the levying for each of a special tax as hereinbefore set out.

On Oct. 23, 1922, the Commissioners of Clearfield county passed resolutions, a copy whereof is hereto attached and made a part of this petition withdrawing the fund produced by said tax from the Road Bond Fund in the treasury of said county and placing said fund in the general treasury so as to make the sum realized from said tax available for the payment of certain extraordinary expenses of the county, particularly the construction of a county bridge at Mahaffey, which bridge is on the improved state road being build through that town.

DIVIDENDS ARE BEING PAID TO BACKERS OF SENATOR PEPPER

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 19 (U. P.)—Political precedent has been shattered for Col. Robert E. Glendinning, as treasurer of Senator George W. Pepper's campaign committee, has declared a "dividend" for all who contributed more than $100 for the Pepper campaign fund. This is mainly because Col. Glendinning is a banker and not a politician. He has filed an account at Harrisburg showing the campaign for Senator Pepper cost $96,810.61 while receipts totalled $98,951.25.

More than fifty contributors shared in the refund which amounts to $2,330. Checks amounting to $150 to $1 have been sent to contributors.

Frank Connelly, who has been a medical patient at the Clearfield hospital the past six weeks, has so far recovered as to be able to return to his home on Cherry street.

John W. Phillips of Westover was a Clearfield visitor yesterday.

Clearfield is to be signally honored tomorrow by the visit to the County Institute of Dr. Thomas E. Finegan, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, defender of the public school system and administrator of the public schools strictly in accordance with the school code.

Dr. Finegan will arrive here on the late train tonight and will address the institute tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

JURIES' HABIT OF CONVICTING LIQUOR LAW VIOLATORS SCARES ALL OF THEM INDICTED INTO PLEA WITHOUT A TRIAL

When Yastro Case Is Finished This Evening What Was Believed To Be A Busy Week Will Have Come To An End And Every Violator Of Liquor Law Will Stand Convicted.

NOT A SINGLE ONE ESCAPES THE LAW

Were the county authorities in every one of the sixty-seven counties of this state as active in the prosecution of violators of the liquor law as are the Clearfield County authorities, prohibition would indeed be a condition in Pennsylvania, instead of more or less of a theory, as is the case in many counties where the local authorities more than wink at all violations while carefully protecting some of the most flagrant and persistent violators of the dry law.

District Attorney Arnold made a "field day" of the December criminal court and accomplished more, by his vigorous and most successful prosecution of liquor law violators, toward the respect for and observance of the law in Clearfield County than has been accomplished in this region since the present laws were placed on the books.

He had the backing of jurors who sincerely believe in proper law enforcement, who were assisted in their deliberations by Judge Bell's lucid explanations of every technical point raised by the opposing attorneys.

It was a combination which brought joy to the hearts of all right-thinking citizens and caused consternation to enter the ranks of bootleggers and moonshiners who are [illegible] other in their nefarious business to get out of the nefarious business.

The past ten days demonstrated that bootlegging [illegible] from a paying business in Clearfield County, when [illegible] legger counts the cost and realizes payment thereof is inevitable. As a result thereof Clearfield County is going to be a better place to live in.

Our militant District Attorney deserves the commendation of all good citizens. Look at this record for December quarter sessions; can you match it anywhere in Pennsylvania?

When the record for December quarter sessions court was made up the following persons charged with various violations of the liquor law were listed for trial or disposition at this term of criminal court. The names of these violators, with the disposition of the case or cases against them follow:—

1. A. C. Edwards, found. guilty.
2. Edgar Meise, found guilty.
3. Joseph Ianaro, plea of guilty.
4. E. G. Burkett, plea of guilty.
5. Elias Burkett, plea of guilty.
6. Adam Cincavage, plea of guilty.
7. Jacob M. Keller, plea of guilty.
8. Jacob Mainés, plea of guilty.
9. David Kranitz, plea of guilty.
10. Tony Marco, plea of guilty.
11. Sero Bankjo, plea of guilty.
12. Joseph Gotchick, plea of guilty.
13. Felix Mackey, plea of guilty.
14. Henry Anderson, plea of guilty.
15. Martin Mostyn, plea of guilty.
16. William Collins, plea of guilty.
17. William Conley, plea of guilty.
18. Mrs. T. Ceneskie, plea of guilty.
19. Scott Hess, plea of guilty.
20. Mike Newton, plea of guilty.
21. George D. Spangle, plea of guilty.
22. Thomas Cavey, plea of guilty.
23. Jane Cavey, bail forfeited and bench warrant awarded.
24. Annie Sterenski, bail forfeited and bench warrant awarded.
25. Owen Smeal, plea of guilty.

The case of Com. vs. Edgar Meise, charged with bootlegging, was called for trial before Judge Bell Monday afternoon, and was the first case to be tried for the second week of December criminal court. In this case Meise is charged with having sold a quantity of moonshine whiskey to Ephraim Learish, aged 16, in September last. After imbibing the liquor Learish became intoxicated and was arrested by the police and placed in the lockup. After becoming sober the police and the boy's mother endeavored to learn from him where he had purchased his liquor and after several days' hesitation he finally told he had purchased it from Meise and his arrest followed.

On the witness stand Learish said he ran across Meise in front of Wise's pool room on the West Side. He had been working at the tannery and had his check for [illegible] at Walker's store, after which he [illegible] Meise $2.50 with which to [illegible] of liquor. They then [illegible] West Front street and [illegible] ed at corner of Merril [illegible] Front street while Meise [illegible] on down W. Front and [illegible] with the liquor. They [illegible] Wise's pool room, where [illegible] nearly all the liquor, [illegible] the bottle and the small [illegible] liquor remaining in it. [illegible] ing the liquor Meise took [illegible] Learish had and gave it [illegible] room keeper. He then went out to get another bottle of liquor, a [illegible] pint.

Mrs. Learish, the boy's mother, testified to having the police arrest her boy in an effort to learn the person who furnished him the liquor.

That closed the case of the prosecution and Attorney W. A. Hagerty, who represented the defendant placed the defendant on the stand. Meise stated that he first saw Learish in the pool room and he was intoxicated then. He also said that Learish gave him two drinks out of a pint and that he had never given Learish any liquor or had never bought or sold him any. He also [illegible] Janecke's pool room later in the day, but never furnished him any liquor.

District Attorney Arnold [illegible] ed Meise if he knew a family named Kelley on the West Side and if he had ever gone there on Sunday. Answered if he had stated at Walker's store he had been offered $5.00 by the man who furnished him the liquor, if he would not give him away, and he had not.

Leslie Wise, proprietor of the pool room, testified that Learish came to his place Sept. 2d, [illegible] apparently under the influence of liquor. He said Meise came in about [illegible] and left a half hour before Learish. Testified to having held Learish's money for safekeeping.

Meise testified that he had gone to Philipsburg after leaving the pool room and Ernest Barger and [illegible] Kline were called to corroborate this but failed to testify.

Musser Brown was called in an effort to determine the source of the liquor Meise was alleged to have [illegible]

PINCHOT DEMANDS $30,000,000 OF A CUT IN APPROPRIATIONS BY THE LEGISLATURE

Harrisburg, Dec. 18.—Pennsylvania officialdom learned with dismay today that Governor-elect Pinchot will demand that the state budget for the next two appropriation years be kept within $90,000,000 and not allowed to reach the $220,000,000 which state officials told the Pinchot Citizens' Committee would be needed.

The announcement is regarded as serving notice on all holders of "soft berths" that the time for them to take to cover is at hand.

The proposed budget slash was made known in letters sent to many officials by Dr. Clyde L. King, head of the Pinchot Citizens' Committee notifying them that the budget appropriation for the next two years must be 25 per cent below the departmental appropriatins of 1921, which ran to approximately $116,000,000 after Governor Sproul had made reductions.

While the anthracite tax will provide additional sums that could not be counted in when the appropriations of 1921 were made, the revenues of the next two years are not expected to exceed by many millions those of the present biennial. There are obligations, however, which the State must meet in the next two years and those must be taken care of before departmental needs are considered; therefore, it is necessary, if reckless expenditures of the Legislature are to be ended, to make cuts right and left.

Millions More for Schools.

The school program will require many more millions than were provided in 1921, the State Highway Department is now behind $3,000,000 or $4,300,000 in township reward payments—that is reimbursement for work locally done under State specifications—the cattle indemnity fund has long since been expended and there are other old debts that must be met.

It was generally understood when the Pinchot Committee asked for appropriation or budget estimates that the department heads would be conservative, and their huge requests were a surprise when the total was learned. A few state officials received the King letter Saturday, but most of them were not here and will get their letters tomorrow when they return from their homes. Most of them have asked for more money than they ever had received, pointing out that the natural growth of their departments necessitated more money. Others have asked for sums similar to those allowed in the past.

The state police under the law are given, for instance, a specified number of troopers, about 425, but for months the troops have been undermanned because the department's appropriation is nearing exhaustion. The department's expenses average about the same year after year. The Legislative Reference Bureau's expenses are always about the same and the legislative branches of the Government have the same expenses to meet every two years, unless the sessions are extended.

Department Budgets Larger.

Some departments, which made cuts in the course of the year, have asked for more money so that former activities might be renewed. The employment bureaus of the Labor and Industry Department in some cities have been closed. The health department has been compelled to close some of its local activities in the cities, turning the work over to charities. More than a year ago it eliminated its free milk and eggs for tuberculosis patients.

The 25 per cent. reduction will mean in many instances the reduction in the forces of workers. In order to make up for the smaller appropriations probably several hundred employes will have to be dropped. Departments like the Treasury, which found they were not living within their appropriations, have cut off a few employes already. Others may make reductions before the appropriation year starts in June.

Governor-elect Pinchot may make his first definite announcement of his program in public, following his inaugural address here on January 23, when he will address the joint session of the score of agricultural associations that will then be in session here. He will be the chief speaker at the first of the big gatherings when the associations hold their annual meetings here in connection with the seventh annual farm products show.

Concerning the Ear.

The smallest ears are found among the Latin races. Intellect and nobility cannot be judged by the size of the ear alone, however. There is an enormous difference between the large ear of savage races and that of a cultured white man. The convolutions and angles are different.

NOTICE GIRL SCOUTS

The box is accordingly held up one more day till the rest can give their old books, doll dishes and toys the once over to find their contribution. It will be nailed up Wednesday morning so contributions must be in bright and early for packing.

The list of girls in the sanitarium to one of whom each scout is to write hangs on the bulletin board in the front scout room. Those who have not taken a name are asked to drop around and do so. This is to be just a gay little Christmas note to one ill and away from home.

NOTICE TO PARENTS

The State of Pennsylvania has spent millions of dollars to protect and reforest the woodlands throughout the state, but what's the use as long as parents will allow and even send their boys out to cut and destroy young timber on other people's land. We have posted our lands for years and it seems to be of no use as the boys tear down and cut away these notices. This is a warning that any party or parties caught trespassing or cutting young tress on our lands will be arrested and dealt with according to law.

7 Barns Burned Today Believed To Be the Work Of Pyromaniac Gangs

Philadelphia, Dec. 19.—Pyromanics continue their reign of terror which started in Pennsylvania recently by applying their torch to seven barns here today.

Thirty-eight barns have been destroyed by fire in the last two weeks. The barns burned today as as follows: One at the mills of Golsborns, Norristown, one at the West Chester Normal Schools, one at Perkiomen Junction, one at Eaglesville, at West Norton, Landsale and at Wyndmoor.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Dr. Thomas E. Finegan, the man who has done more for education in Pennsylvania the past three years than was accomplished heretofore in the past two decades, and we have the professional judgement of our own beloved Jane Leonard and other leading educators the country over to assure us of that fact, will be one of the instructors at the County Teacher's Institute tomorrow and will address the more than 500 teachers present upon the subject of education. Dr. Finegan will no doubt talk on some phase of this all-important subject wherein much depends upon the school teacher, but his remarks will no doubt be of particular interest to school patrons generally and all who can do so should attend the session and hear him.

Thanks to the publicity given Dr. Finegan in the recent political campaign, he is now one of the best known men in public life in Pennsylvania. His conduct of the State Department of Education withstood every assault, truthful and otherwise, made against him, and the result of the gubernatorial election was a thorough and everlasting vindication of Dr. Finegan's every effort since Governor Sproul was fortunate enough to secure him to head Pennsylvania's schools. We were then in the 21st hole plodding along and getting nowhere as education is measured nowadays. Today Pennsylvania is climbing, climbing steadily and is even now rapidly reaching the front rank, educationally speaking, among these 48 United States.

There is a man and a method primarily responsible for that condition and fact. He will be in Clearfield tomorrow in the person of the very worthy head of the educational forces of the State. Every friend of education who can possibly do so should hear Dr. Finegan at the Institute tomorrow morning.

We hear much these days of the Ku Klux Klan and its avowed purpose of regulating or running out of this free country of ours every man who fails to agree with the gowned and masked fanatics and lightheads who make up its secret membership. The fathers when they made the immortal constitution of these United States expressly provided against just such things as the Klan aims to put over, recognizing that a man's religious belief or creed was a thing entirely personal to himself as a matter of conscience, and no man or set of men, "nightriders" or no, can make it otherwise. This country has become the shining example and the paragon of nations or peoples because of this wise constitution of ours which recognizes that the loyalty of Catholic to Catholicism, of Jew to Judaism, or of Protestant to Protestantism is not affected by their freer intercourse, their better mutual knowledge or understanding of each other, such as is possible in free America. On the contrary the great gain is in the growing recognition that the common denominator, MAN, is the one great title that proves and keeps us all akin.

The increasingly closer contact fostered by American life among those who used to take a stupid pride in living suspiciously apart is a means of mutual revelation that not only Judy O'Grady and the Colonel's lady, but Jew and gentile are humans under the skin.

We must not fail to remember at all times that under and over all subdivisions—religious, economic, social—we are all members of the United State of Man.

What is all this attack on Attorney-General Daugherty about?

Anybody who has had experience with persecutions of this kind knows they are not due to FAILURE to be aggressive in performance of duty but are always due to powerful enemies that have been offended by a just and impartial PERFORMANCE of duty.

The plain question in Attorney-General Daugherty's case is, therefore, not what has Attorney-General Daugherty failed to do, but in what vigorous way he enforced the law which has caused some big interest to hate him and to go out to "get him," and to stir up its big hired lawyers and its little owned politicians to attack the man who has offended this interest, and to say things that will be printed in newspapers, even though they are never proved nor even attempted to be proved?

The investigation of Attorney-General Daugherty has fallen utterly flat.

No proof of any allegation has been presented. The chief accuser, and on the flimsiest of pretexts, has even refused to testify; and the evidence which has been heard from the most honorable and independent men, like Senator Hiram Johnson, has all been in defense of Attorney-General Daugherty and in support of Attorney-General Daugherty and in commendation of his acts and his activities.

What is needed now is another investigation, to find out who the big interests are who are attacking the Attorney-General of the United States, and who are trying to discredit him and weaken him, and weaken the force of his official procedure.

Is it the Whisky Ring, against which the Attorney-General's office has been especially active?

Is it the war profiteers, who were so powerful with the late Democratic Administration?

Is it the Palmer-Garvan outfit, who fraudulently confiscated alien property and delivered it to their friends, and whom the Attorney-General has exposed?

Most surely there is some big interest and some corrupt interest responsible for the attacks upon the Attorney-General of the United States, which attacks up to this time have been so utterly baseless and futile as to make them an insult to the American people whom the Attorney-General represents.—New York American.

Approximately 6,000 happy persons will sit down to Christmas dinners in Pennsylvania on December 25th next, who would not be there if the tuberculosis death rate for this year were the same as it was in 1906.

On the same basis the lives of 27,500 Pennsylvanians have been saved in the intervening years and many thousands more have been prevented from contracting tuberculosis. This saving of human life has been the result of a constantly growing organized effort to combat and destroy the "White Plague."

Those thousands of persons are living proof that tuberculosis can be cured and prevented.

The citizen tuberculosis organizations which have had a part in this winning fight are financed mainly through the Christmas Seal. The Christmas Seal protects against tuberculosis. It teaches those who have the disease how to take care of themselves and not to communicate the disease to others, and teaches well people how to keep well.

AUDITOR GENERAL CALLS ATTENTIONS TO SHORTCOMINGS

SUGGESTS REMEDY

Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 19, (U. P.)—An act to authorize the Auditor General to audit the accounts of the State Workmens Insurance Fund will be drafted and recommended to the 1923 Legislature, Auditor General Samuel Lewis stated here today.

Other bills to be recommended by the Auditor General he announced today will include one to make it mandatory upon the Auditor General to examine, inspect and verify all securities held by the State Treasurer and to verify the books in which the law requires the Deputy State Treasurer and Commissioner of Trusts to keep a record of all such securities and a bill creating a State Depository Board consisting of the State Treasurer, the Auditor General, the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and the State Commissioner of Banking.

The statement made by the Auditor General outlining some of his legislative proposals said in part:

"I am at the present time preparing an Act which will give authority, in fact make it mandatory upon the Auditor General, to audit the accounts of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund.

"As the State Workmen's Insurance Fund is now constituted it is neither an institution, bureau or department of the State Government nor a private corporation. The general impression prevails, that the State Workmen's Insurance Fund is a State institution and is a department of the State Government sustaining practically the same relations to the State as those existing for example, between the State and the Workmen's Compensation Board, the Insurance Department, or the Banking Department. This impression that it is a State institution or bureau is due, no doubt, to the fact that the period of the formation and development of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund the money for its organization and operation was provided by legislative appropriation. This money has, however, been paid back to the State Treasury out of the earnings of the Fund.

"The State Workmen's Insurance Fund as a matter of fact sustains a very anomalous relationship with the State Government. The parties who take out insurance are in a manner regarded as stockholders, but they have no control or voice in the management of the institution. It is apparently run on the mutual plan, yet it is not a mutual company neither is it a stock company.

"Under the law the Fund is controlled and administered by the heads of three State Departments, namely, the State Treasurer, the Insurance Commissioner and the Commissioner of Labor and Industry. Three officers are charged with making the investments, making the rules and regulations, classifying the subscribers fixing the rates, declaring the dividends, making contracts and performing all other duties connected with the administration of the Fund.

"The members of the Board no doubt, have certain indirect and supervisory powers over the Fund but neither the Auditor General nor any other disinterested officer is not connected with the Board has it within its power to audit investments, salaries and expense accounts as is done in connection with other departments.

"The State through its chief auditing officer, namely the Auditor General, audits the disbursements of all three of the officials mentioned as members of the Board, having control over their salaries and expenses excepting where fixed by statute; but over the Board itself, which is constituted by these three officials there exists no such control or auditing supervision and strange to say there is no means of exercising the auditing and supervisory powers conferred by the Constitution over the Fund itself.

"I also propose having reintroduced at the next session of the Legislature, the Bill which I prepared and which was introduced by Representative Golder during the last session making it mandatory upon the Auditor General to make an inspection, examine and verification of all securities held by the State Treasurer in whatever capacity and to verify the books in which the law requires the Deputy State Treasurer and Commissioner of Trusts to keep a record of all such securities. An opinion of the Attorney General is to the effect that the Auditor General has no authority whatever to check up these securities. I understand that approximately twenty-six million dollars of bonds and securities are now in the hands of the State Treasurer. For the protection of the State Treasurer as the custodian of these securities the Board of Public Grounds and Buildings recently entered into an agreement with a surety company providing for burglary and theft insurance.

"The Bill which I had prepared and which was introduced at the last session by Representative James A Walker and Senator Morris Einstein will again be offered. This Bill provides for regulating deposits of State moneys or funds, creating a State Depository Board consisting of the State Treasurer, the Auditor General, the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the State Commissioner of Banking, defining the powers and duties of such Board, imposing certain duties upon the State Treasurer and Auditor General and prescribing penalties. The Bill specifically provides for advertising for bids for state deposits, so that the State may realize interest thereon in conformity with the value of the deposits instead of realizing namely two and three per cent, the nominal amounts now fixed by law. A law of this kind would do away with the practice of preferring certain banks and favoring certain depositories to the prejudice of the interest of the Commonwealth. The best evidence of the merits of this Bill is the recent disclosures of Main & Co's. audit of the State Treasury Department under my direction. The enactment of this Bill into law would have prevented all the trouble that was developed by the audit."

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or have Bladder trouble.

Too much meat may form uric acid, which excites and overworkes the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Big meat eaters can flush the kidneys occasionally to relieve them like they relieve the bowels, removing all the acids, waste and poison, else they may feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, the stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad they have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging one to get up two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help prevent serious kidney and bladder disorders.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

A bunch of five deer which was hung up on the outside edge of the sidewalk in front of the Meltzen-rather pool room on Saturday drew the attention of more than a hundred spectators during the day and evening. The kill was the result returned from the men who composed the Kelly camp. Dec. 8th, 8-prong buck J. W. Kelly; Dec 1st, 8-prong, Clayton McNaul; Dec. 2 8-prong, Rev. Max Lantz; Dec 5, 2-prong, W. M. Kephart; Dec. 12, Spike, A. W. Kelly. John Kelly was lucky enough to add the kill of a large red fox to his deer. There were fifteen men in the camp.

In a letter received by the writer from a sister in Portland, Oregon she has this to say about some Curwensville people who are residents of the western city and well known in this town and vicinity. "A few Sundays ago my sister ad I were at Ella Way Smith's home for dinner and we had a veritable feast of good Pennsylvania dishes. After the meal was served Mr Leslie Smith took his mother, sister Maud and our two selves in his car to visit another brother and sister, bringing us home later, rounding out a very delightful and enjoyable day. No one can excel a good Curwensville cook." Another paragraph reads: "On Thanksgiving Day a number of mutual friends came together in the cozy home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Chesterney (Mrs. C. being a sister of Ed Benson. We enjoyed not only a feast of reason and a flow of soul but a fine turkey and fixins to match and all the good things that accompany such a layout. The Mills, the Shaws, Olive Read, Flo LaPort and Mrs. G W. Weaver were the favored guests. The home is Colonial style very pretty and complete and greatly enjoyed by the occupants and their friends." All parties above mentioned will be easily remembered by both Clearfield and Curwensville friends.

A movement will be inaugurated about January 1st, by one of the societies whose object is to better the moral condition of the town government and the people to have several of the old blue laws put in force, the main of which will be the one closing all stores, cigar stands etc., during the hours of the Sabbath day. This does not include the drug stores so far as the selling of drugs and medicines are concerned nor restaurants in the furnishing of food or lunch. The primary object as it was explained to us is to forbid the sale of merchandise, cigars, tobacco fruits and all other goods that can be just as easily be purchased on a week day. This movement was in force once before and during Hiram Caldwells administration his Chief Burgess. It worked all right for a month or two but after that time was allowed to wane and Sunday selling was again resumed and has continued ever since. Understand from the start that the Progress correspondent is not putting himself in the limelight as a reformer, nor does this item originated from his tired body and brain, but emanated in the minds of several ladies who made us a call Saturday and wished us to make a statement of their intentions, being backed, as they stated, by the very best element of the towns citizenry. Whether the Sunday closing plan will work out satisfactory we are not going to predict, but will watch the result carefully and if it does not run out as it should we shall unhesitatingly say so.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L Dale, George street, leave today for Philadelphia where they will spend the holiday week with Mrs. Dale's sister Mrs Maude Daugherty.

We are sorry to inform the kiddies that there will be no Community Christmas tree for them this year. Plans for having one miscarried somehow.

Mrs. John A. Dale has gone to Philadelphia and will visit her son Thomas Dale and family for several days.

About all of the Curwensville young folks who are attending school at a distance, are expected to arrive home during the week.

The Trinity Lutheran Sunday School is having a handsome tree and also an interesting literary exercise.

Following is a report of Red Cross Christmas seals sold by the School children. Taking into consideration the fact that the town was flooded with sheets of these stamps before the pupils started out, the amount realized from sales is very commendable.

"ALL-AMERICAN" POLITICAL TEAM HAS BIG KICKERS

(By oversight, Henry L. Miller, Press sports editor, got away to the Osceola minor league meeting without picking and All-American eleven. Realizing that the oversight would involve great loss, we asked the political editor to sub for him in this assignment. Here are his selections and his reasons for making them:)

New York, Dec. 16.—The 1922 campaign was so full of fast and brilliant work that any selection of an All-American team must be open to criticism However, the following is suggested:

Center—Borah, of Idaho.
Right Guard—Frazier, of North Dakota
Right tackle—Ralston of Indiana
Right End—Pinchot of Penna.
Quarterback—Lodge, of Massachusetts (captain.)
Fullback—Edwards, of New Jersey.

This team would be especially strong in kicking and interference There is lots of bone and muscle on the team and it will probably average 199 pounds in weight.

The ends, Smith and Pinchot, are both fast, as shown by their running November 7, and will get down the field on any kick, however low, and the makeup of the team makes it necessary to have ends equipped to handle all kinds of kicking

The line as a whole is strong and heavy and it will take a strong team to make a first down thru the forwards. Its blocking would be especially effective.

Lodge, of Massachusetts, is placed at quarterback and will captain the team probably doing most of the passing. Lodge is recognized as one of the hardest thinkers in the game today and while he is the lightest man on the team in weight his accuracy at passing and his ability to get the most kicking and interference out of the team named easily gives him the place.

The backs, Johnson, La Follette and Edwards, are all "triple threat" men heavy, strong and capable of breaking the line, passing and kicking, to say nothing of shining at interference.

While cutting timber on the Elmer Peters farm last week, W E. Kratzer slipped on a log and fell, striking on his side and fracturing several ribs.

LEAVING CLEARFIELD

An announcement made at the Commercial Club last evening by G Woodward Olcott, better known as "Woody," caused profound regret Mr. Olcott has been manager for the Clearfield County Co-operative Association and a worker and leader in every community effort. His services were greatly in demand and his announced intention of leaving Clearfield leaves a void that will indeed be hard to fill. All will join in saying, "So long, Woody, and the best of luck." His plans for the future are not announced.

HOW TO PUT A "KICK" IN IT

—A tip for "wets" and "drys!"

We are all liable to feel "out of sorts" at times—need something with a "kick" in it to clear the brain, brighten the eye, put "pep" in the system.

Best way to do this is to take—with, or without, a "chaser"—that harmless yet thoroughly efficient family medicine, Beecham's Pills.

"Two for adults and one for children" is the phrase of health that has meant good digestion and a clear system for countless healthy, happy people the world over for the past 80 years.

fered. He estified that he saw Meise and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kelley talking about the case and Kelley told him Meise said he had been offered $800 if he would keep that party's name out of the case but the testimony was not allowed, it being hearsay.

Mrs. Leavich was recalled and said her boy worked all morning on Sept. 5th, came home and got his dinner and then went ou to the pool room. She said he had not been drinking.

That concluded the testimony and after the arguments of counsel and Judge's charge the case was given to the jury.

The jury after due deliberation decided that Meise was guilty of bootlegging and returned their verdict of guilty as indicted when court opened this morning

Peter Yastro, of Stronach, was put on trial this morning charged with manufacturing, transporting and selling moonshine in violation of the Volstead Act. His still and several barrels of mash under process of fermentation were placed in evidence. Yastro's downfall or arrest grew out of the killing of a man by a Pennsylvania train at Grampian during the early summer The investigation of the happening by the Pennsy police showed the man had been drinking and that he got on the train at Stronach to come to Grampian the night he was killed. Further investigation resulted in finding Yastro's outfit.

J Mitchell Chase appeared for the defense, while the prosecution was looked after by District Attorney Arnold.

Officer Henson of the P. R R. police was the first witness called and told of the occurrence which resulted in the investigation resulting in the finding of Yastro's still at the home of Joe Urbaskyo, a neighbor of Yastro's. He then went to Yastro's house and found two barrels of mash working, from which the samples in evidence were taken.

With the taking up of the Yastro case District Attorney Arnold announced that the several other defendants scheduled for trial this week had decided to enter pleas of guilty and there would be no further jury trials for the week, whereupon all the jurors but those selected to try Yastro were discharged.

Scott W. Hess, of Stoneville, who made the mistake several weeks ago of disposing of a pint of six-sylinder Boggs township moonshine to Dry Enforcement Officer Sprague, entered a plea of guilty to selling liquor in violation of the Woner Act.

George W. Spangle, proprietor of the Blain City Hotel, entered a plea of guilty to violation of the liquor law. Dry Agent Sprague and his crew dropped in at Spangle's hotel some few weeks ago and had no trouble in purchasing a couple of bottles of that which cheers.

A correspondent writes a surprising story about the influence of the Gulf stream upon Ireland. He says that there is a stretch of about ten miles at Achill Head, County Mayo, where the stream hits Ireland. This point is actually tropical, and bananas, palms and various flora flourish there as they do in the tropics, while a mile or so either north or south of this point has the cold, damp temperature of the rest of Ireland.

Mrs. Brunen Says She Never Threatened to Kill Husband, Honest John

Mount Holly, Dec. 19.—"I never threatened to kill my husband" said Mrs. Dorris Brunen on completing her testimony on the stand today. She is on trial with her brother, Harry Mohr, charged with the murder of her husband, Honest John Brenen, the circus man. Mrs Brenen admitted that her husband came home drunk at times but she strongly denied the statement of the confessed murderer of Brunen that she ever threatened to "get her husband."

FAMILIES OF VICTIMS OF SPANGLER MINE BLAST, ARE FACING CHRISTMAS BRAVELY

Spangler, Pa., Dec. 13—It will be 15 days from this Christmas season before Spangler recovers from the disaster.

What disaster? Can't recall it?

Well, it happened less than two months ago—the explosion in the Reilly coal mine that killed 79 miners and injured 35 more. You remember the headlines: "Many Perish in Mine Blast." "Mine Death List Grows." "Rescuers Risk Lives at Spangler." "Widow and Children Mourn Mine Victims," and then—

The world turns its attention to other news.

But not Spangler. There the real tragedy, the struggle for existence of the living victims of the disaster was just beginning. Fifty widows and 200 orphans deprived of their breadwinner. Union benefits, state compensation, charity for a while—then what?

The United Mine Workers of America paid the regular benefits. The state allows a maximum of $12 a week to a widow with small children for 300 weeks, after which there is a readjustment downward. The town of Spangler and neighborhood committees have helped. But at best this is not enough. And tragedy, a great as death stalks most of these 50 widows with their 200 fatherless little ones.

Mary Shopo breathes a prayer for courage to struggle on for the sake of her four small children. The explosion smothered out the lives of her husband and two eldest sons. This came shortly after another son had been killed in an automobile wreck.

She had waited for hours at the maw of the mine. Finally, a begrimed, blackened, semi-senseless youth was borne out. "Thank God—my Rudy," he cried. But the lad was another womans' son. They told her the truth: Mrs. Grace Kelly claimed the lad, her Edwin.

'May God help me—but I'm glad for her sake,' sobbed Mrs. Shopo and staggered away to those of her brood who were left.

Mrs. Kelly kissed her son rapturously and held him to the stretcher bearers who carried him to the hospital.

That morning she had put up a lunch for him, as father and his brother. The father and brother were killed. Two uncles and two cousins perished.

But Mrs. Kelly forced a smile today after only as she visited Edwin in the hospital and told him not to know the worst "not till he's well" she said.

The lad is 16. Though Mrs. Kelly has five older children she is going to keep Edwin out of the mine and send him back to school. That's how he'll like her husband. For he died trying to save others.

John Hurey and John Pelo were pals. They married sisters and the two families, with their six children lived together. The men were improving the house. Then the disaster and death for both. Some day an unborn babe will learn that John Hurey was its father. That will make seven children for the two women to support.

Mrs. Mary Plutko is a widow whose hopes rested in three stalwart hard working sons, 16, 18 and 21. Their lives were snuffed out. Now she faces a fight to rear her three dependent children.

"I'll manage it somehow! I've worked all my life."

This sentence epitomizes the courage of Mrs. Amelia Zurendo. Her husband was killed. She has seven children, the eldest 12 years, the youngest a few months old.

Rose Munac has several small children to support, for the mine claimed her husband and her two working sons. "I'll pray—and work—and pray," she says, "and I'll put my trust in Providence."

But there's one bright spot in the tragedy that will cast a cloud over Spangler for the next 15 years. It's pointed out by a man who won wide praise for the heroism he displayed in the rescue work.

"The real heroes of Spangler," he said, "are the women who are bravely going about rearing their orphaned little ones. To them the world should take off its hat this Christmas—and maybe help the Spangler relief committee a bit to let in a little cheer where now gloom hangs so heavily."

Undesirables.

Mistrust the man who finds everything good, the man who finds everything evil, and still more the man who is indifferent to even the latest fad.

BOOTLEGGERS IN MAD RUSH TO ENTER 'GUILTY' PLEAS

COMMERCIAL CLUB HONORS FOUNDERS OF INSTITUTION

One Hundred Members of Thriving Organization Hear Something of Origin of the Idea.

A HAPPY EVENING

The Commercial Club is no longer an infant. The club officials admitted that fact last night when they staged a "Founders' Night" in honor of what they termed the twelve "master minds" who conceived the idea of a Commercial Club and laid down the precepts and foundation on which the club has been so solidly erected.

President Frantz called the meeting to order last evening to begin his second term as president and thanked the boys for the compliment bestowed upon him. Vice President Philip Reed, Secretary R. B. Brubaker and Treasurer Harry B. Evans were all on the job to fill the stations.

Many of the new members taken in recently, and by the way, the club is full up now, there being one hundred members in good standing on the roll, made happy little speeches and the club guest was Lieut. Whitford Barrett of the Sheridan Troop of cavalry of Tyrone, who is a native Clearfielder. Lieut. Barrett explained the opportunity to get a cavalry troop for Clearfield and the club went on record as approving the move and pledged its support to "Troop A." After the meeting a number of the club members signed up to join the troop.

With the business of the evening out of the way Dr. Frantz spoke of the origin of the club and called on G. A. Stewart who served as chairman at the first meeting ever held for a recital of the details of that gathering of twelve men which has ripened into a solid business organization of one hundred men.

Mr. Stewart stated that the origin of the Commercial Club, like the nationality of Columbus, the authorship of Shakespeare and other great outstanding historical problems, was more or less disputed as to time, place and principals. No minutes of the Commercial Club were kept until the permanent organization was formed and the first regular meeting held on January 31, 1921 although meetings were held regularly every two weeks for about three months prior to that date. There was a purpose in keeping no minutes and giving no pupblicity to the early meetings of the club. It was to test the purpose of the young members, to see whether they were truly interested in the formation of a club of business men for the more serious aspects of community and business life. That they were so interested is attested by the fact that attendance grew with each meeting and has continued to grow.

Washington, Dec. 18.—The American Legion has definitely decided to frown upon plans for linking a beer and light wines act to the new Soldier's Bonus Bill, Legion officials announce.

Legion officials reached this decision at a conference here which included the new National Commander, Alvin Owsley, former commander and several state leaders. The soldier-legislators were unqualifiedly opposed to all rum revenue provisions, it was said, through fear that raising the prohibition issue would jeopardize passage of the Bonus Bill. Officials are also opposed to inclusion in the new bill of any provisions for payment of the bonus, it was said. This ban would extend not only to sales taxes and luxury taxes but even to the proposed bond issue suggested by Chairman Fordney, Republican, of Michigan, of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Representatives of the soldier's organizations are determined to force action on the new measure before the present session. This drive was heartily endorsed by soldier members of the House who announced their willingness to conduct a bonus fight on the floor to the exclusion of all other legislation until the bill was enacted.

Legion spokesmen plan to visit President Harding in the near future to place their views before him. They will contend the President can now sign the type of bill he vetoed last summer because the nation's financial condition has improved.

The President will also be told there is now no need to include a revenue-raising provision for the bonus as Treasury reports indicate the first payments could be made without taxing the Government's financial resources. Future payments, he will be informed, can be made thru the regular sources of revenue.

Chairman Fordney, who declared he was ready to introduce the new Bonus Bill, also planned to call upon the President this week to discuss the bonus situation.

The Fordney plan tentatively includes a provision for paying the bonus through a bond issue. This bond issue would either be made to cover the entire cost of the bonus or to pay off each soldier with a government bond which could easily be cashed. Legion officials apparently are opposed to both suggestions.

Former service men in the House are backing the Legion in its fight. Their position was outlined today by Representative Royal Johnson, Republican, of North Dakota, who served overseas during the war.

"The former service men in the House are determined the bonus will be enacted by the present Congress," said Johnson. "It will be passed before next March 4. This time I hope the President will sign it."

COLD WAVE, FIRE AND CRIME MAKE CHICAGO PROBLEM

Chicago, Dec. 19.—Deaths, fire, robbery and murder came with the cold wave which continued to hold Chicago in its grip today. Zero weather which still continues has caused five deaths, thousands of dollars damage from fire and hundreds of highway robberies.

With freezing weather coming just before the holidays acute suffering was reported among the poor in all sections of the city and the relief workers have been working overtime.

Four men were found frozen to death last night, another man was killed when he slipped on the icy pavements and fell underneath a skidding auto.

The fire department has had hardly a moment rest in the last few days. More than 400 fires have been reported since the cold wave hit Chicago.

WILL TRY AGAIN TO FIND WEALTH IN THE MOUNTAIN

Cleveland Financiers Undismayed at Failure of Last Two Wells and Will Drill Some More.

MAY DRILL FOURTH

Notwithstanding the fact that both the test wells already drilled on the Whitmer-Steele lands north of town have proven to be "dusters" and that the State Geologist is on record as basing his official reputation upon the expressed belief that neither oil or gas in paying quantities exist in Clearfield county east of an imaginary line which crosses the county in the region of DuBois, a further effort will be made to find oil or gas in the region mentioned.

The superintendent of the Cleveland Gas Company, which financed the recent test well drilled on the Pitch Pine tract to a depth of 3,150 feet, was in Clearfield yesterday and left for the mountains in charge of driller Heisel for the purpose of locating another test well.

It is expected that this well will be located at Mineral Spring, about one mile and a half east of the well just completed, which was half a mile east of the first well put down in that locality.

If the well at Mineral Spring fails to produce, we understand a fourth attempt will be made in the same section.

Police and detectives who rushed to the scene a few minutes after the explosion stated that the Policeman's home had been dynamited by a man who was suspected of owning a still which was being run on a lot in the rear of his home.

Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 19.—A call was issued today by Lieutenant Governor Biedleman for a special election January 18th in the Washington and Green County Senatorial District. James G. CHICAGO ROADS ARE WATCHED FOR MEN WHO STOLE $200,000

Chicago, Dec. 19.—All roads into Chicago were guarded today following the receipt by police of a tip that the bandits who robbed the Federal Reserve Bank car of $200,000 were headed this way. Federal authorities state the tip was received from a woman who refuseed to divulge her name. The woman said members of the gang were from Chicago. Plans were also made to search all western trains coming into Chicago.

Mrs. W. S. Rice, who has been on the sick list the past three weeks, is able to be about the house again.

SEEK, BY MANDAMUS, THE USE OF FUNDS RAISED BY TAXES TO PAY INTEREST ON ROAD BONDS WHICH WERE NEVER ISSUED

County Commissioners Seek To Compel The County Treasurer To Put The Money Into General Fund.

FOR MAHAFFEY BRIDGE

District Attorney John C. Arnold, by direction of the County Commissioners, in a petition filed in Prothonotary Ralston's office this morning, asks the Court to issue a mandamus compelling County Treasurer Gertrude Rumberger to pay into the general fund of the county the amount of money raised by a one and one-half mill road bond tax levied in 1921 and since kept in a separate fund for road purposes.

The petition recites that in the spring of 1921 the County Commissioners contemplated the issuing of $350,000 road bonds and to provide payment of principal, interest and tax levied a tax of one and one-half mills.

Despite the fact that the millage was assessed no debt was incurred until September, 1921, when road bonds to the amount of $225,000 were issued and a one mill tax levied in 1922 to provide for same. The same was true of a bond issue of $460,000 in the spring of 1922, while in September, 1922, an additional road debt of $325,000 was incurred and like the previous issues a tax levy to cover same arranged for with the issue of bonds.

The one and one-half mills levied in 1921 were not re-assessed in 1922, but about all of it has been collected. For the purpose of this action it is charged this tax was erroneously not paid into general fund of county but placed by the Treasurer in a special fund created for payment of interest and taxes of and the redemption of Road Bonds of Clearfield county. Said tax is not needed in said fund for the reason that the road bonds of the county as issued are provided for specifically by the resolutions authorizing each particular issue as hereinbefore stated, by the levying for each of a special tax as hereinbefore set out.

On Oct. 23, 1922, the Commissioners of Clearfield county passed resolutions, a copy whereof is hereto attached and made a part of this petition withdrawing the fund produced by said tax from the Road Bond Fund in the treasury of said county and placing said fund in the general treasury so as to make the sum realized from said tax available for the payment of certain extraordinary expenses of the county, particularly the construction of a county bridge at Mahaffey, which bridge is on the improved state road being build through that town.

DIVIDENDS ARE BEING PAID TO BACKERS OF SENATOR PEPPER

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 19 (U. P.)—Political precedent has been shattered for Col. Robert E. Glendinning, as treasurer of Senator George W. Pepper's campaign committee, has declared a "dividend" for all who contributed more than $100 for the Pepper campaign fund. This is mainly because Col. Glendinning is a banker and not a politician. He has filed an account at Harrisburg showing the campaign for Senator Pepper cost $96,810.61 while receipts totalled $98,951.25.

More than fifty contributors shared in the refund which amounts to $2,330. Checks amounting to $150 to $1 have been sent to contributors.

Frank Connelly, who has been a medical patient at the Clearfield hospital the past six weeks, has so far recovered as to be able to return to his home on Cherry street.

John W. Phillips of Westover was a Clearfield visitor yesterday.

Clearfield is to be signally honored tomorrow by the visit to the County Institute of Dr. Thomas E. Finegan, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, defender of the public school system and administrator of the public schools strictly in accordance with the school code.

Dr. Finegan will arrive here on the late train tonight and will address the institute tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

JURIES' HABIT OF CONVICTING LIQUOR LAW VIOLATORS SCARES ALL OF THEM INDICTED INTO PLEA WITHOUT A TRIAL

When Yastro Case Is Finished This Evening What Was Believed To Be A Busy Week Will Have Come To An End And Every Violator Of Liquor Law Will Stand Convicted.

NOT A SINGLE ONE ESCAPES THE LAW

Were the county authorities in every one of the sixty-seven counties of this state as active in the prosecution of violators of the liquor law as are the Clearfield County authorities, prohibition would indeed be a condition in Pennsylvania, instead of more or less of a theory, as is the case in many counties where the local authorities more than wink at all violations while carefully protecting some of the most flagrant and persistent violators of the dry law.

District Attorney Arnold made a "field day" of the December criminal court and accomplished more, by his vigorous and most successful prosecution of liquor law violators, toward the respect for and observance of the law in Clearfield County than has been accomplished in this region since the present laws were placed on the books.

He had the backing of jurors who sincerely believe in proper law enforcement, who were assisted in their deliberations by Judge Bell's lucid explanations of every technical point raised by the opposing attorneys.

It was a combination which brought joy to the hearts of all right-thinking citizens and caused consternation to enter the ranks of bootleggers and moonshiners who are [illegible] other in their nefarious business to get out of the nefarious business.

The past ten days demonstrated that bootlegging [illegible] from a paying business in Clearfield County, when [illegible] legger counts the cost and realizes payment thereof is inevitable. As a result thereof Clearfield County is going to be a better place to live in.

Our militant District Attorney deserves the commendation of all good citizens. Look at this record for December quarter sessions; can you match it anywhere in Pennsylvania?

When the record for December quarter sessions court was made up the following persons charged with various violations of the liquor law were listed for trial or disposition at this term of criminal court. The names of these violators, with the disposition of the case or cases against them follow:—

1. A. C. Edwards, found. guilty.
2. Edgar Meise, found guilty.
3. Joseph Ianaro, plea of guilty.
4. E. G. Burkett, plea of guilty.
5. Elias Burkett, plea of guilty.
6. Adam Cincavage, plea of guilty.
7. Jacob M. Keller, plea of guilty.
8. Jacob Mainés, plea of guilty.
9. David Kranitz, plea of guilty.
10. Tony Marco, plea of guilty.
11. Sero Bankjo, plea of guilty.
12. Joseph Gotchick, plea of guilty.
13. Felix Mackey, plea of guilty.
14. Henry Anderson, plea of guilty.
15. Martin Mostyn, plea of guilty.
16. William Collins, plea of guilty.
17. William Conley, plea of guilty.
18. Mrs. T. Ceneskie, plea of guilty.
19. Scott Hess, plea of guilty.
20. Mike Newton, plea of guilty.
21. George D. Spangle, plea of guilty.
22. Thomas Cavey, plea of guilty.
23. Jane Cavey, bail forfeited and bench warrant awarded.
24. Annie Sterenski, bail forfeited and bench warrant awarded.
25. Owen Smeal, plea of guilty.

The case of Com. vs. Edgar Meise, charged with bootlegging, was called for trial before Judge Bell Monday afternoon, and was the first case to be tried for the second week of December criminal court. In this case Meise is charged with having sold a quantity of moonshine whiskey to Ephraim Learish, aged 16, in September last. After imbibing the liquor Learish became intoxicated and was arrested by the police and placed in the lockup. After becoming sober the police and the boy's mother endeavored to learn from him where he had purchased his liquor and after several days' hesitation he finally told he had purchased it from Meise and his arrest followed.

On the witness stand Learish said he ran across Meise in front of Wise's pool room on the West Side. He had been working at the tannery and had his check for [illegible] at Walker's store, after which he [illegible] Meise $2.50 with which to [illegible] of liquor. They then [illegible] West Front street and [illegible] ed at corner of Merril [illegible] Front street while Meise [illegible] on down W. Front and [illegible] with the liquor. They [illegible] Wise's pool room, where [illegible] nearly all the liquor, [illegible] the bottle and the small [illegible] liquor remaining in it. [illegible] ing the liquor Meise took [illegible] Learish had and gave it [illegible] room keeper. He then went out to get another bottle of liquor, a [illegible] pint.

Mrs. Learish, the boy's mother, testified to having the police arrest her boy in an effort to learn the person who furnished him the liquor.

That closed the case of the prosecution and Attorney W. A. Hagerty, who represented the defendant placed the defendant on the stand. Meise stated that he first saw Learish in the pool room and he was intoxicated then. He also said that Learish gave him two drinks out of a pint and that he had never given Learish any liquor or had never bought or sold him any. He also went to [illegible] Janecke's pool room later in the day, but never furnished him any liquor.

District Attorney Arnold asked Meise if he knew a family named Kelley on the West Side and if he had ever gone there on Sunday. Answered if he had stated at Wallaceton that he had been offered $100 by the man who furnished him the liquor, if he would not give him away, and he had not.

Leslie Wise, proprietor of the pool room, testified that Learish came to his place Sept. 2d, [illegible] apparently under the influence of liquor. He said Meise came in about [illegible] and left a half hour before Learish. Testified to having held Learish's money for safekeeping.

Meise testified that he had gone to Philipsburg after leaving the pool room and Ernest Barger and [illegible] Kline were called to corroborate this but failed to testify.

Musser Brown was called in an effort to determine the source of the liquor Meise was alleged to have [illegible]

PINCHOT DEMANDS $30,000,000 OF A CUT IN APPROPRIATIONS BY THE LEGISLATURE

Harrisburg, Dec. 18.—Pennsylvania officialdom learned with dismay today that Governor-elect Pinchot will demand that the state budget for the next two appropriation years be kept within $90,000,000 and not allowed to reach the $220,000,000 which state officials told the Pinchot Citizens' Committee would be needed.

The announcement is regarded as serving notice on all holders of "soft berths" that the time for them to take to cover is at hand.

The proposed budget slash was made known in letters sent to many officials by Dr. Clyde L. King, head of the Pinchot Citizens' Committee notifying them that the budget appropriation for the next two years must be 25 per cent below the departmental appropriatins of 1921, which ran to approximately $116,000,000 after Governor Sproul had made reductions.

While the anthracite tax will provide additional sums that could not be counted in when the appropriations of 1921 were made, the revenues of the next two years are not expected to exceed by many millions those of the present biennial. There are obligations, however, which the State must meet in the next two years and those must be taken care of before departmental needs are considered; therefore, it is necessary, if reckless expenditures of the Legislature are to be ended, to make cuts right and left.

Millions More for Schools.

The school program will require many more millions than were provided in 1921, the State Highway Department is now behind $3,000,000 or $4,300,000 in township reward payments—that is reimbursement for work locally done under State specifications—the cattle indemnity fund has long since been expended and there are other old debts that must be met.

It was generally understood when the Pinchot Committee asked for appropriation or budget estimates that the department heads would be conservative, and their huge requests were a surprise when the total was learned. A few state officials received the King letter Saturday, but most of them were not here and will get their letters tomorrow when they return from their homes. Most of them have asked for more money than they ever had received, pointing out that the natural growth of their departments necessitated more money. Others have asked for sums similar to those allowed in the past.

The state police under the law are given, for instance, a specified number of troopers, about 425, but for months the troops have been undermanned because the department's appropriation is nearing exhaustion. The department's expenses average about the same year after year. The Legislative Reference Bureau's expenses are always about the same and the legislative branches of the Government have the same expenses to meet every two years, unless the sessions are extended.

Department Budgets Larger.

Some departments, which made cuts in the course of the year, have asked for more money so that former activities might be renewed. The employment bureaus of the Labor and Industry Department in some cities have been closed. The health department has been compelled to close some of its local activities in the cities, turning the work over to charities. More than a year ago it eliminated its free milk and eggs for tuberculosis patients.

The 25 per cent. reduction will mean in many instances the reduction in the forces of workers. In order to make up for the smaller appropriations probably several hundred employes will have to be dropped. Departments like the Treasury, which found they were not living within their appropriations, have cut off a few employes already. Others may make reductions before the appropriation year starts in June.

Governor-elect Pinchot may make his first definite announcement of his program in public, following his inaugural address here on January 23, when he will address the joint session of the score of agricultural associations that will then be in session here. He will be the chief speaker at the first of the big gatherings when the associations hold their annual meetings here in connection with the seventh annual farm products show.

Concerning the Ear.

The smallest ears are found among the Latin races. Intellect and nobility cannot be judged by the size of the ear alone, however. There is an enormous difference between the large ear of savage races and that of a cultured white man. The convolutions and angles are different.

NOTICE GIRL SCOUTS

The Scout staff feels sure that only a fraction of the one hundred odd scouts have seen the notes about the gift box for the children in the Cresson sanitarium.

The box is accordingly held up one more day till the rest can give their old books, doll dishes and toys the once over to find their contribution. It will be nailed up Wednesday morning so contributions must be in bright and early for packing.

The list of girls in the sanitarium to one of whom each scout is to write hangs on the bulletin board in the front scout room. Those who have not taken a name are asked to drop around and do so. This is to be just a gay little Christmas note to one ill and away from home.

NOTICE TO PARENTS

The State of Pennsylvania has spent millions of dollars to protect and reforest the woodlands throughout the state, but what's the use as long as parents will allow and even send their boys out to cut and destroy young timber on other people's land. We have posted our lands for years and it seems to be of no use as the boys tear down and cut away these notices. This is a warning that any party or parties caught trespassing or cutting young tress on our lands will be arrested and dealt with according to law.

7 Barns Burned Today Believed To Be the Work Of Pyromaniac Gangs

Philadelphia, Dec. 19.—Pyromanics continue their reign of terror which started in Pennsylvania recently by applying their torch to seven barns here today.

Thirty-eight barns have been destroyed by fire in the last two weeks. The barns burned today as as follows: One at the mills of Golsborns, Norristown, one at the West Chester Normal Schools, one at Perkiomen Junction, one at Eaglesville, at West Norton, Landsale and at Wyndmoor.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Dr. Thomas E. Finegan, the man who has done more for education in Pennsylvania the past three years than was accomplished heretofore in the past two decades, and we have the professional judgement of our own beloved Jane Leonard and other leading educators the country over to assure us of that fact, will be one of the instructors at the County Teacher's Institute tomorrow and will address the more than 500 teachers present upon the subject of education. Dr. Finegan will no doubt talk on some phase of this all-important subject wherein much depends upon the school teacher, but his remarks will no doubt be of particular interest to school patrons generally and all who can do so should attend the session and hear him.

Thanks to the publicity given Dr. Finegan in the recent political campaign, he is now one of the best known men in public life in Pennsylvania. His conduct of the State Department of Education withstood every assault, truthful and otherwise, made against him, and the result of the gubernatorial election was a thorough and everlasting vindication of Dr. Finegan's every effort since Governor Sproul was fortunate enough to secure him to head Pennsylvania's schools. We were then in the 21st hole plodding along and getting nowhere as education is measured nowadays. Today Pennsylvania is climbing, climbing steadily and is even now rapidly reaching the front rank, educationally speaking, among these 48 United States.

There is a man and a method primarily responsible for that condition and fact. He will be in Clearfield tomorrow in the person of the very worthy head of the educational forces of the State. Every friend of education who can possibly do so should hear Dr. Finegan at the Institute tomorrow morning.

* * *

We hear much these days of the Ku Klux Klan and its avowed purpose of regulating or running out of this free country of ours every man who fails to agree with the gowned and masked fanatics and lightheads who make up its secret membership. The fathers when they made the immortal constitution of these United States expressly provided against just such things as the Klan aims to put over, recognizing that a man's religious belief or creed was a thing entirely personal to himself as a matter of conscience, and no man or set of men, "nightriders" or no, can make it otherwise. This country has become the shining example and the paragon of nations or peoples because of this wise constitution of ours which recognizes that the loyalty of Catholic to Catholicism, of Jew to Judaism, or of Protestant to Protestantism is not affected by their freer intercourse, their better mutual knowledge or understanding of each other, such as is possible in free America. On the contrary the great gain is in the growing recognition that the common denominator, MAN, is the one great title that proves and keeps us all akin.

The increasingly closer contact fostered by American life among those who used to take a stupid pride in living suspiciously apart is a means of mutual revelation that not only Judy O'Grady and the Colonel's lady, but Jew and gentile are humans under the skin.

We must not fail to remember at all times that under and over all subdivisions—religious, economic, social—we are all members of the United State of Man.

What is all this attack on Attorney-General Daugherty about?

Anybody who has had experience with persecutions of this kind knows they are not due to FAILURE to be aggressive in performance of duty but are always due to powerful enemies that have been offended by a just and impartial PERFORMANCE of duty.

The plain question in Attorney-General Daugherty's case is, therefore, not what has Attorney-General Daugherty failed to do, but in what vigorous way he enforced the law which has caused some big interest to hate him and to go out to "get him," and to stir up its big hired lawyers and its little owned politicians to attack the man who has offended this interest, and to say things that will be printed in newspapers, even though they are never proved nor even attempted to be proved?

The investigation of Attorney-General Daugherty has fallen utterly flat.

No proof of any allegation has been presented. The chief accuser, and on the flimsiest of pretexts, has even refused to testify; and the evidence which has been heard from the most honorable and independent men, like Senator Hiram Johnson, has all been in defense of Attorney-General Daugherty and in support of Attorney-General Daugherty and in commendation of his acts and his activities.

What is needed now is another investigation, to find out who the big interests are who are attacking the Attorney-General of the United States, and who are trying to discredit him and weaken him, and weaken the force of his official procedure.

Is it the Whisky Ring, against which the Attorney-General's office has been especially active?

Is it the war profiteers, who were so powerful with the late Democratic Administration?

Is it the Palmer-Garvan outfit, who fraudulently confiscated alien property and delivered it to their friends, and whom the Attorney-General has exposed?

Most surely there is some big interest and some corrupt interest responsible for the attacks upon the Attorney-General of the United States, which attacks up to this time have been so utterly baseless and futile as to make them an insult to the American people whom the Attorney-General represents.—New York American.

Approximately 6,000 happy persons will sit down to Christmas dinners in Pennsylvania on December 25th next, who would not be there if the tuberculosis death rate for this year were the same as it was in 1906.

On the same basis the lives of 27,500 Pennsylvanians have been saved in the intervening years and many thousands more have been prevented from contracting tuberculosis. This saving of human life has been the result of a constantly growing organized effort to combat and destroy the "White Plague."

Those thousands of persons are living proof that tuberculosis can be cured and prevented.

The citizen tuberculosis organizations which have had a part in this winning fight are financed mainly through the Christmas Seal. The Christmas Seal protects against tuberculosis. It teaches those who have the disease how to take care of themselves and not to communicate the disease to others, and teaches well people how to keep well.

AUDITOR GENERAL CALLS ATTENTIONS TO SHORTCOMINGS

SUGGESTS REMEDY

Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 19, (U. P.)—An act to authorize the Auditor General to audit the accounts of the State Workmens Insurance Fund will be drafted and recommended to the 1923 Legislature, Auditor General Samuel Lewis stated here today.

Other bills to be recommended by the Auditor General he announced today will include one to make it mandatory upon the Auditor General to examine, inspect and verify all securities held by the State Treasurer and to verify the books in which the law requires the Deputy State Treasurer and Commissioner of Trusts to keep a record of all such securities and a bill creating a State Depository Board consisting of the State Treasurer, the Auditor General, the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and the State Commissioner of Banking.

The statement made by the Auditor General outlining some of his legislative proposals said in part:

"I am at the present time preparing an Act which will give authority, in fact make it mandatory upon the Auditor General, to audit the accounts of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund.

"As the State Workmen's Insurance Fund is now constituted it is neither an institution, bureau or department of the State Government nor a private corporation. The general impression prevails, that the State Workmen's Insurance Fund is a State institution and is a department of the State Government sustaining practically the same relations to the State as those existing for example, between the State and the Workmen's Compensation Board, the Insurance Department, or the Banking Department. This impression that it is a State institution or bureau is due, no doubt, to the fact that the period of the formation and development of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund the money for its organization and operation was provided by legislative appropriation. This money has, however, been paid back to the State Treasury out of the earnings of the Fund.

"The State Workmen's Insurance Fund as a matter of fact sustains a very anomalous relationship with the State Government. The parties who take out insurance are in a manner regarded as stockholders, but they have no control or voice in the management of the institution. It is apparently run on the mutual plan, yet it is not a mutual company neither is it a stock company.

"Under the law the Fund is controlled and administered by the heads of three State Departments, namely, the State Treasurer, the Insurance Commissioner and the Commissioner of Labor and Industry. Three officers are charged with making the investments, making the rules and regulations, classifying the subscribers fixing the rates, declaring the dividends, making contracts and performing all other duties connected with the administration of the Fund.

"The members of the Board no doubt, have certain indirect and supervisory powers over the Fund but neither the Auditor General nor any other disinterested officer is not connected with the Board has it within its power to audit investments, salaries and expense accounts as is done in connection with other departments.

"The State through its chief auditing officer, namely the Auditor General, audits the disbursements of all three of the officials mentioned as members of the Board, having control over their salaries and expenses excepting where fixed by statute; but over the Board itself, which is constituted by these three officials there exists no such control or auditing supervision and strange to say there is no means of exercising the auditing and supervisory powers conferred by the Constitution over the Fund itself.

"I also propose having reintroduced at the next session of the Legislature, the Bill which I prepared and which was introduced by Representative Golder during the last session making it mandatory upon the Auditor General to make an inspection, examine and verification of all securities held by the State Treasurer in whatever capacity and to verify the books in which the law requires the Deputy State Treasurer and Commissioner of Trusts to keep a record of all such securities. An opinion of the Attorney General is to the effect that the Auditor General has no authority whatever to check up these securities. I understand that approximately twenty-six million dollars of bonds and securities are now in the hands of the State Treasurer. For the protection of the State Treasurer as the custodian of these securities the Board of Public Grounds and Buildings recently entered into an agreement with a surety company providing for burglary and theft insurance.

"The Bill which I had prepared and which was introduced at the last session by Representative James A Walker and Senator Morris Einstein will again be offered. This Bill provides for regulating deposits of State moneys or funds, creating a State Depository Board consisting of the State Treasurer, the Auditor General, the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the State Commissioner of Banking, defining the powers and duties of such Board, imposing certain duties upon the State Treasurer and Auditor General and prescribing penalties. The Bill specifically provides for advertising for bids for state deposits, so that the State may realize interest thereon in conformity with the value of the deposits instead of realizing namely two and three per cent, the nominal amounts now fixed by law. A law of this kind would do away with the practice of preferring certain banks and favoring certain depositories to the prejudice of the interest of the Commonwealth. The best evidence of the merits of this Bill is the recent disclosures of Main & Co's. audit of the State Treasury Department under my direction. The enactment of this Bill into law would have prevented all the trouble that was developed by the audit."

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or have Bladder trouble.

Too much meat may form uric acid, which excites and overworkes the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Big meat eaters can flush the kidneys occasionally to relieve them like they relieve the bowels, removing all the acids, waste and poison, else they may feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, the stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad they have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging one to get up two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help prevent serious kidney and bladder disorders.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

A bunch of five deer which was hung up on the outside edge of the sidewalk in front of the Meitzen-rather pool room on Saturday drew the attention of more than a hundred spectators during the day and evening. The kill was the result returned from the men who composed the Kelly camp. Dec. 8th, 8-prong buck J. W. Kelly; Dec 1st, 8-prong, Clayton McNaul; Dec. 2 8-prong, Rev. Max Lantz; Dec 5, 2-prong, W. M. Kephart; Dec. 12, Spike, A. W. Kelly. John Kelly was lucky enough to add the kill of a large red fox to his deer. There were fifteen men in the camp.

In a letter received by the writer from a sister in Portland, Oregon she has this to say about some Curwensville people who are residents of the western city and well known in this town and vicinity. "A few Sundays ago my sister ad I were at Ella Way Smith's home for dinner and we had a veritable feast of good Pennsylvania dishes. After the meal was served Mr Leslie Smith took his mother, sister Maud and our two selves in his car to visit another brother and sister, bringing us home later, rounding out a very delightful and enjoyable day. No one can excel a good Curwensville cook." Another paragraph reads: "On Thanksgiving Day a number of mutual friends came together in the cozy home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Chesterney (Mrs. C. being a sister of Ed Benson. We enjoyed not only a feast of reason and a flow of soul but a fine turkey and fixins to match and all the good things that accompany such a layout. The Mills, the Shaws, Olive Read, Flo LaPort and Mrs. G W. Weaver were the favored guests. The home is Colonial style very pretty and complete and greatly enjoyed by the occupants and their friends." All parties above mentioned will be easily remembered by both Clearfield and Curwensville friends.

A movement will be inaugurated about January 1st, by one of the societies whose object is to better the moral condition of the town government and the people to have several of the old blue laws put in force, the main of which will be the one closing all stores, cigar stands etc., during the hours of the Sabbath day. This does not include the drug stores so far as the selling of drugs and medicines are concerned nor restaurants in the furnishing of food or lunch. The primary object as it was explained to us is to forbid the sale of merchandise, cigars, tobacco fruits and all other goods that can be just as easily be purchased on a week day. This movement was in force once before and during Hiram Caldwells administration his Chief Burgess. It worked all right for a month or two but after that time was allowed to wane and Sunday selling was again resumed and has continued ever since. Understand from the start that the Progress correspondent is not putting himself in the limelight as a reformer, nor does this item originated from his tired body and brain, but emanated in the minds of several ladies who made us a call Saturday and wished us to make a statement of their intentions, being backed, as they stated, by the very best element of the towns citizenry. Whether the Sunday closing plan will work out satisfactory we are not going to predict, but will watch the result carefully and if it does not run out as it should we shall unhesitatingly say so.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L Dale, George street, leave today for Philadelphia where they will spend the holiday week with Mrs. Dale's sister Mrs Maude Daugherty.

We are sorry to inform the kiddies that there will be no Community Christmas tree for them this year. Plans for having one miscarried somehow.

Mrs. John A. Dale has gone to Philadelphia and will visit her son Thomas Dale and family for several days.

About all of the Curwensville young folks who are attending school at a distance, are expected to arrive home during the week.

The Trinity Lutheran Sunday School is having a handsome tree and also an interesting literary exercise.

Following is a report of Red Cross Christmas seals sold by the School children. Taking into consideration the fact that the town was flooded with sheets of these stamps before the pupils started out, the amount realized from sales is very commendable.

"ALL-AMERICAN" POLITICAL TEAM HAS BIG KICKERS

(By oversight, Henry L. Miller, Press sports editor, got away to the Osceola minor league meeting without picking and All-American eleven. Realizing that the oversight would involve great loss, we asked the political editor to sub for him in this assignment. Here are his selections and his reasons for making them:)

New York, Dec. 16.—The 1922 campaign was so full of fast and brilliant work that any selection of an All-American team must be open to criticism However, the following is suggested:

Center—Borah, of Idaho.
Right Guard—Frazier, of North Dakota
Right tackle—Ralston of Indiana
Right End—Pinchot of Penna.
Fullback—Edwards, of New Jersey.

This team would be especially strong in kicking and interference There is lots of bone and muscle on the team and it will probably average 199 pounds in weight.

The ends, Smith and Pinchot, are both fast, as shown by their running November 7, and will get down the field on any kick, however low, and the makeup of the team makes it necessary to have ends equipped to handle all kinds of kicking

The line as a whole is strong and heavy and it will take a strong team to make a first down thru the forwards. Its blocking would be especially effective.

Lodge, of Massachusetts, is placed at quarterback and will captain the team probably doing most of the passing. Lodge is recognized as one of the hardest thinkers in the game today and while he is the lightest man on the team in weight his accuracy at passing and his ability to get the most kicking and interference out of the team named easily gives him the place.

The backs, Johnson, La Follette and Edwards, are all "triple threat" men heavy, strong and capable of breaking the line, passing and kicking, to say nothing of shining at interference.

While cutting timber on the Elmer Peters farm last week, W E. Kratzer slipped on a log and fell, striking on his side and fracturing several ribs.

LEAVING CLEARFIELD

An announcement made at the Commercial Club last evening by G Woodward Olcott, better known as "Woody," caused profound regret Mr. Olcott has been manager for the Clearfield County Co-operative Association and a worker and leader in every community effort. His services were greatly in demand and his announced intention of leaving Clearfield leaves a void that will indeed be hard to fill. All will join in saying, "So long, Woody, and the best of luck." His plans for the future are not announced.

FUNERAL OF S. H. FULTON

The remains of the late Samuel H Fulton, who died at the home of his son Orvis Fulton at Buffalo on Sunday morning last, will be brought to Clearfield on the 4 30 B, R & P train this evening. Upon arrival here the body will be taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Lewis Kline, on Merrill street, where funeral service will be held at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, followed by interment in Hillcrest cemetery.

HOW TO PUT A "KICK" IN IT

—A tip for "wets" and "drys!"

We are all liable to feel "out of sorts" at times—need something with a "kick" in it to clear the brain, brighten the eye, put "pep" in the system.

Best way to do this is to take—with, or without, a "chaser"—that harmless yet thoroughly efficient family medicine, Beecham's Pills.

"Two for adults and one for children" is the phrase of health that has meant good digestion and a clear system for countless healthy, happy people the world over for the past 80 years.

fered. He estified that he saw Meise and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kelley talking about the case and Kelley told him Meise said he had been offered $800 if he would keep that party's name out of the case but the testimony was not allowed, it being hearsay.

Mrs. Leavich was recalled and said her boy worked all morning on Sept. 5th, came home and got his dinner and then went ou to the pool room. She said he had not been drinking.

That concluded the testimony and after the arguments of counsel and Judge's charge the case was given to the jury.

The jury after due deliberation decided that Meise was guilty of bootlegging and returned their verdict of guilty as indicted when court opened this morning

Peter Yastro, of Stronach, was put on trial this morning charged with manufacturing, transporting and selling moonshine in violation of the Volstead Act. His still and several barrels of mash under process of fermentation were placed in evidence. Yastro's downfall or arrest grew out of the killing of a man by a Pennsylvania train at Grampian during the early summer The investigation of the happening by the Pennsy police showed the man had been drinking and that he got on the train at Stronach to come to Grampian the night he was killed. Further investigation resulted in finding Yastro's outfit.

J Mitchell Chase appeared for the defense, while the prosecution was looked after by District Attorney Arnold.

Officer Henson of the P. R R. police was the first witness called and told of the occurrence which resulted in the investigation resulting in the finding of Yastro's still at the home of Joe Urbaskyo, a neighbor of Yastro's. He then went to Yastro's house and found two barrels of mash working, from which the samples in evidence were taken.

With the taking up of the Yastro case District Attorney Arnold announced that the several other defendants scheduled for trial this week had decided to enter pleas of guilty and there would be no further jury trials for the week, whereupon all the jurors but those selected to try Yastro were discharged.

Scott W. Hess, of Stoneville, who made the mistake several weeks ago of disposing of a pint of six-sylinder Boggs township moonshine to Dry Enforcement Officer Sprague, entered a plea of guilty to selling liquor in violation of the Woner Act.

George W. Spangle, proprietor of the Blain City Hotel, entered a plea of guilty to violation of the liquor law. Dry Agent Sprague and his crew dropped in at Spangle's hotel some few weeks ago and had no trouble in purchasing a couple of bottles of that which cheers.

A correspondent writes a surprising story about the influence of the Gulf stream upon Ireland. He says that there is a stretch of about ten miles at Achill Head, County Mayo, where the stream hits Ireland. Mrs. Brunen Says She Never Threatened to Kill Husband, Honest John

Mount Holly, Dec. 19.—"I never threatened to kill my husband" said Mrs. Dorris Brunen on completing her testimony on the stand today. She is on trial with her brother, Harry Mohr, charged with the murder of her husband, Honest John Brenen, the circus man. Mrs Brenen admitted that her husband came home drunk at times but she strongly denied the statement of the confessed murderer of Brunen that she ever threatened to "get her husband."

Spangler, Pa., Dec. 16—It will be 15 days from this Christmas season before Spangler recovers from the disaster.

What disaster? Can't recall it?

Well, it happened less than two months ago—the explosion in the Reilly coal mine that killed 79 miners and injured 35 more. You remember the headlines: "Many Perish in Mine Blast." "Mine Death List Grows." "Rescuers Risk Lives at Spangler." "Widow and Children Mourn Mine Victims," and then—

The world turns its attention to other news.

But not Spangler. There the real tragedy, the struggle for existence of the living victims of the disaster was just beginning. Fifty widows and 200 orphans deprived of their breadwinner. Union benefits, state compensation, charity for a while—then what?

The United Mine Workers of America paid the regular benefits. The state allows a maximum of $12 a week to a widow with small children for 300 weeks, after which there is a readjustment downward. The town of Spangler and neighborhood committees have helped. But at best this is not enough. And tragedy, a great as death stalks most of these 50 widows with their 200 fatherless little ones.

Mary Shopo breathes a prayer for courage to struggle on for the sake of her four small children. The explosion smothered out the lives of her husband and two eldest sons. This came shortly after another son had been killed in an automobile wreck.

She had waited for hours at the maw of the mine. Finally, a begrimed, blackened, semi-senseless youth was borne out. "Thank God—my Rudy," he cried. But the lad was another womans' son. They told her the truth: Mrs. Grace Kelly claimed the lad, her Edwin.

'May God help me—but I'm glad for her sake,' sobbed Mrs. Shopo and staggered away to those of her brood who were left.

Mrs. Kelly kissed her son rapturously and held him to the stretcher bearers who carried him to the hospital.

That morning she had put up a lunch for him, as father and his brother. The father and brother were killed. Two uncles and two cousins perished.

But Mrs. Kelly forced a mile day after day as she visited Edwin in the hospital and 'the man not know the worst not till he's well' she said.

The lad is 16. Though Mrs. Kelly has five older children she is going to keep Edwin out of the mine and send him back to school. That's how mom like her husband. For he died trying to save others.

John Hurey and John Pelo were pals. They married sisters and the two families, with their six children lived together. The men were improving the house. Then the disaster and death for both. Some day an unborn babe will learn that John Hurey was its father. That will make seven children for the two women to support.

Mrs. Mary Plutko is a widow whose hopes rested in three stalwart hard working sons, 16, 18 and 21. Their lives were snuffed out. Now she faces a fight to rear her three dependent children.

"I'll manage it somehow! I've worked all my life."

This sentence epitomizes the courage of Mrs. Amelia Zurendo. Her husband was killed. She has seven children, the eldest 12 years, the youngest a few months old.

Rose Munac has several small children to support, for the mine claimed her husband and her two working sons. "I'll pray—and work—and pray," she says, "and I'll put my trust in Providence."

But there's one bright spot in the tragedy that will cast a cloud over Spangler for the next 15 years. It's pointed out by a man who won wide praise for the heroism he displayed in the rescue work.

"The real heroes of Spangler," he said, "are the women who are bravely going about rearing their orphaned little ones. To them the world should take off its hat this Christmas—and maybe help the Spangler relief committee a bit to let in a little cheer where now gloom hangs so heavily."

Undesirables.
